and was exhausted from weakness when the ambulance arrived on the scene a few minutes later, having been called by telephone. Dr. Flegenheimer, who was in charge of the wagon, did what he could to relieve the suffering of the ne-gro, which was intense, after which he was lifted gently into the vehicle and carried with haste to the public institu-tion.

HEAD NEARLY SEVERED.

Here a more critical examination of the wounds were made. The negro was on an operating table for an hour or more, during which time the hospital surgeons took a number of stitches in the wound in his throat. His head had been nearly severad from his body, and the deep, ugly gash only missed penetrating the jurinar vein by a fraction of an inch. The other stabs were of less importance and are not at all dangerous.

They chased the fleeing negro for a number of blocks, but he lost himself from them in the mysterious Penitentiary Bottom. The officers have a good description of Pugh, and to some of the policemen he is known well. This morning at 1 o'clock, when the different reliefs depurted from the three respective stations the officers were read descriptions of Pugh, and all were notified to be on a close lookout for him, as it is feared that the wounded man may die and the affair assume the grave proportions of a murder.

POWERPUL MAN.

From all accounts, it seems that Pugh and Johnson have worked together at the Tredegar Works for several months, being engaged at the same furnace. Both were powerful men, their muscles having been hugely developed by the class of exercise in which they engaged. They fired one of the furnaces,

Yesterday afternoon the men were engaged as usual in stoking the oven, when they fell out over some supposedir trivial matter, the nature of which is not known. KNONVILLE, TENN., February 23.—
'Squire A. Buffatt, of a special investigating committee, to-day swore out a warrant against a peero charging fraud in obtaining appropriations for burials from the Knonville County Court.

It is claimed the committee visited the county cemetery and exhumed a number of coffins, or boxes, in which it was claimed paupers had been buried. It is charged that of this number about seventy boxes had no bodies in them.

It is alleged by the committee that the burials of the empty boxes had been practiced to get money from the county for "burying paupers."

Washington's birthday was fittingly observed at Fort Lee yesterday afterson, the eccasion being the raising of the Unit of States flag upon Fort Lee school. The affair was conducted by a committee from Patrick Henry Council, No 12, J.
O. U. A. M., of Fulton, who gave Old Glory and its staff to the school. The impressive ceremony took place at 3 o'clock before an audience of several hundred, including representatives of the order and officials of the School Board.
The flag was received on behalf of the school by Miss Agnes Crowder, the teacher of the school. The pupils of the school wore sashes of the national colors and waved banners of the same. While the entire audience was singing 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee' the flag was raised by a little girl. The rest of the evening was spent in a social session, consisting of speeches from members of the order and relatives of the children.
